

MAINLINE

THE ART + CULTURE + LIFESTYLE MAGAZINE

MARCH/APRIL 2007

GOOD IN BED

Losing sleep over buying the right bed? We tested four, from exorbitant to economy

By Jami Tryer

Hollandia Beds

The GrandBed
by Tempur-Pedic

The Sleep Number 5000 Bed

Ikea's Ramberg

The Bed	Hollandia Beds	The GrandBed by Tempur-Pedic	The Sleep Number 5000 Bed	Ikea's Ramberg
Comfort/Overall Experience	Vita Talalay latex and specially milled aloe vera fibers makes you feel like a million-dollar lover — and you'll never sweat.	Memory foam mattresses creates a customized sleep experience, conforming to every curve of your body. Who needs a man?	A "10."	Depends on which mattress you buy. It's a toss-up, and your mother-in-law is sure to have an opinion.
Special Feature/ Claim to Fame	Made to last 25-years! Plus: titanium frame, retractable casters and motion detectors. The ultimate chick bait.	In-home 90-night trial. Infomercials boast you can jump on the bed and the glass of wine on the mattress won't tip over.	This zero to 100 setting represents your ideal combination of mattress comfort, firmness and support.	You can splurge on other things like a good plasma or LCD TV. Find knock-offs of name brands at JR.com
Level of Luxury (Cost for Queen size)	Think "Lifestyles of the Rich & Famous." $8,000 to $50,000!	Think "Laguna Beach." Mattress starts at $5,499.	Think "90210." Starts at $1,749.	Think "Trading Spaces." $119 for the frame.
Who's Buying?	Lots of Israeli celebs and government types. Diddy? Well, not yet.	People who enjoy Tang. Also, those who suffer chronic back pain swear by this bed.	Those who believe in the "science" of Numerology.	Recent grads, college kids and first-time homebuyers
Cool Factor	This Israeli firm turns up turning in. A lot of Zs for a lot of Gs.	Recognized by NASA, this bed will make you want to space out all night long.	You can have a 69 every night with or without your lover.	You'll have plenty left over to furnish the rest of your house.
Possible Cons	Having to get up.	You might find the impression of another woman upon returning from your business trip. "Hey, are those D cups?"	The guy you brought home might forget your number.	Marriages have been known to bust up while reading assembly instructions. Beds have been known to bust up during make-up sex.
Ideal Bedtime Snack	Caviar on toast points with all the accoutrements and a bottle of Dom.	Anything that might leave an impression. (Cheap entertainment).	V-8, 7-Up or a 100 Grand candy bar.	S'mores — assemble them yourself. Swedish meatballs are also acceptable.
Alarm Clock	Living off dividends. Don't need to wake up, silly.	Clock radio with nature sounds.	Digital display, of course.	Anything Colby.
The Right Bedding	Exclusive French linens from D. Porthault — a King set with shams starts around $2,400.	Spring for a high thread count. You want to be able to feel the mattress.	That down comforter you've been eyeing on QVC completes the nocturnal bliss.	Bed-N-The-Bag sets from Target.
Bedside Reading	"Wealth Without Fear — How To Stay Rich" by Toby Unwin. Copies of Vanity Fair swiped from the Gulfstream V.	"Lost In Space: Voyage To The Bottom Of The Soul" by Bill Mumy	"Loving Someone with OCD: Help for You and Your Family" by Karen J. Landsman, Kathleen M. Rupertus and Cherry Pedrick	"The Complete Idiot's Guide to Starting an eBay Business" (paperback) by Barbara Weltman
Where to Buy	Hollandia The Plaza at the King of Prussia Mall hollandiaus.com	The Healthy Back Store 917 Bethlehem Pike Montgomeryville tempurpedic.com	selectcomfort.com	Ikea 400 Alan Wood Rd. Conshohocken ikea.com