Wednesday May 2, 2007 How many Mother's Day gift guides do we possibly need? Most include gifts that are impractical, over priced, and terribly unrealistic, unless your Mom is Gloria Vanderbilt (mother of Anderson Cooper)!

I'd like to think that our EDGE Mother's Day Gift Guide is one of affordable luxury and practicality. Think about it - how are we going to be able to afford all of our homo holidays to Provincetown, Fort Lauderdale, Ibiza, West Hollywood and San Fran, if we spend a fortune on Mom?

Here are some gift ideas that our resident experts- that would be either me or my "test Moms"- personally tried...

Kangaroo blanket by Hollandia

What's a Kangaroo blanket? quite simply it's a fabulous blanket fused with aloe vera fibers that packs into a pocket to form a pillow. There are pouches on the blanket for your hands and feet- in order to keep them warm. I loved lounging with this blanket, and I often fell asleep on the couch with it; it's extremely soft and versatile for all seasons. It also checks in at a reasonable $149. Check out www.hollandiaUS.com for more info and where it's sold near you.
